ods. After further commenting on a communication which appeared in The APPRAL signed "Old Democrat" in which the names of saven gentlemen, including myself, are spoken of as worthy of Congressional honors, the article continues as follows:
"But, let us apply the process of elimination. Here are, mark you, saven names, Wright, Morgan, Gant', Greer, Turley, Patterson and Weak.y.

"Gen. Wright holds himself absolutely out of that field. Mr. Gantt abhors the political arens. Judge Morgaa has other fish to fry and is positively out. Judge Turiey could not even take a Supreme Judgeship when it was within his grasp. Judge Greer is emphatically not a candidate. Mr. Weakly is positively not a candidate. "Algebra is not worth a cent in poli-tics. We have applied the process of elimination to these seven names. We have eliminated all seven. We haven't anybody left for 'An Old Democrat's' dark horse. We give it up.

"We haven't forgotten anybody, have we? "No, "we are seven," all there, everybody accounted for, all out. We give it up.

The necessary implication from these extracts is that I am what the Avalanche terms a "dark horse" in the contest for Congress. Such a candidate it describes to be one whose purpose it is "to set A against B, and B against C; to make sham and pretense of nomination when the purpose is to avoid it; to generate wrangling, and to bring about a deadlock when harmony should be the object." This is cer-tainly an unenvisible character the Avalanche has portrayed, and I have greatly misunderstood the estimation in which I am held in this community if they deem me capable of playing any such role. I desire, therefore, through your columns to state to the public my attitude in respect to the Congressional race. Within the last two weeks a number of gentlemen have approached me on the subject of becoming a candidate for Congress They have said to me that I would be an available candidate. I have replied on all occasions that I was not a candidate, cccasions that I was not a candidate, lutely out of danger of a scoop or stop-that I was content with a private sta-tion in life, that my business relations to Birmingham as fast as it is possible were pleasant to me, and it was altogether agreeable to me to follow my professional pursuits. I said to them further that I would under no circumstance embarrace my friends or ob-trude myself on the Democratic party or its councils. To this I have added that while I did not suppose I occu-pied any such place in the public estimation, yet if I believed that it was the general wish of the party for me to make the canvass I would not decline to do so. Whether this places me in the attitude of a timid, self seeking aspirant for Congress, conspiring by indirection to bread discord in the councils of the Democratic party for my own promotion, or in that of an unobtrusive citizen who is content with his station in life, let the public determine. In addition to the reasons which I gave my friends for not be-coming a candidate, there are other reasons which would deter me from making a personal canvass for the nomination. A seat in Congress is an office of honor rather than of profit can see how a candidate for an office of profit might make his canvass a matter of business and personally solicit votes in a nominating convention. On the other hand, I can see how a cit zen might regard a seat in Congrees as an honor, and yet hesitate to obtrude himself on his friends or his party to obtain it. The only pride I could feel in the acquisition of such an honor would be found in the consciousness that it was conferred by the suffrages of the people without impor-tunity on my part. Again, the Tenth Congressional District is one con-spicuous on account of its geographical position. The principal city of the Southwest, with all its diversified interests, growth of population and development of in-dustries, is within its limits. The harbor of Memphis situated on our great inland sea, at the terminus of so many lines of railroad will continue to be an object of legislative interest. An empire of overflowed lands, between this city and the gulf, on the reclamation of which the greatness of the Mississippi Valley depends, is within the limitations of the constitution, a great legislative problem. To more national character to which the Democratic party stands pledged, it is plain that a man of no ordinary > Knouff Pitches a Good Game but Receives Wretched Support-Results of Games Elsewhere.

Knouff pitched a winning game yesterday, but received miserable support, and the home team lost the game which should have been theirs if their playing had been free from er-ror. Of the six runs to Atlanta's credit not one was earned, while the one run made by Memphis was an earned one. This clearly shows that as far as bat teries were concerned Memphis had the best of it. Wells was hit freely and hard, and did not play up to his reputation, and but for Stricker's wonderful work at second would have been knocked out of the box. Seven put outs and two assists is something that even the king of a cond basemen, Dunlap, might well feel proud of. Sneed's illness has seriously crippled the nine. On Wednesday he was replaced by a novice named Black, whose errors contributed largely to the loss of the game. Yesterday an amateur named Mason was sent out to left field while Bob Black replaced Sneed in right field. The Atlantas, quick to see a weak spot and work, sent their fly balls to left field when there were men on bases, and in that way scored a couple of runs. McSorley also made a costly error that helped Atlanta to victory in a game where they failed to earn a run. Sneed was on the ground yesterday, but not well enough to play. He will be on hand today, hewever, and a better showing may be safely relied on. Conway will doubt less be in the box for Atlanta, and if the home team want to win a game in this series this is their only chance.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

AT CINCINNATI. Cincinnati, O., August 28.—The champions were outbat ed today and the home club won a game on its merits. Lewis, Corkhill and O'Neil did the most batting, while Latham, McPhee, O'Neill and Lewis carried off the fielding honors. Umpire Walsh, who was an unsatisfactory to the Cincinnation. who was so unsatisfactory to the Cincionatis yesterday and the day before, roused the ire of the Missourians this afternoon and they made it a point in the last few innings to ask for judg-ment on every put out they made, no matter how plain a case. Attendance 1620.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Go our to the ball grounds today and see Mappes throw to second bass. SAVANNAH won two games from Macon vesterday. It's just like rolling acon yesterday. It's jus oil a log.

THE science of base running, as practiced by Stricker and Cline, approaches perfection. Dan'r fail to go to Citizens' Park today. Memphis may get beat, but you will see ball playing—by Atlanta. MERRITT's decisions cost the home team several runs yesterday. Merritt determined to commit suicide

SNEED will be on deck today. Look out for a better report. If he feels anything like well he will make Conway weary. LEFT FIELDER MASON distinguished himself by showing the old vess how to hammer the ball. A two begger on

Wells is no slouch performance for an THE Grand Junction Record Makers defeated the LaGrange Blues Wednesday evening by a score of 21 to 11 and are crowing very loud about it. They think the Blues ought to tackle their second nine. PURCELL is winning golden opinions by his gentlemanly conduct, so marked is the contrast between his present good behavior and his former obetreperonsness. Has the certainty of victory subdued him?

BITTMAN and Collins have come and gone, but if the proof of the pudding is in the eating, Stricker can discount either one of them at second base. Seven putouts, two assists and no er ror-how can a club win against such hogginhness?

ATLANTA did not need to bribe an umpire to help her beat Savannah, and all reports to that effect are absurd canards. It might take two umpires to enable Savannah to best Atanta, but Atlanta needs no such astistance to overcome Savannah. Her team outclasses Savannah at every point and, with Shafler in the box, Memphians will go broke that she can defeat Savannah five out of seven games. Let them meet on neutral grounds and a barrel of Memphis money will back Atlanta.

THE MARSHALSHIP.

JUDGE WOODS SENDS A TRLE-GRAM TO JUDGE HAMMOND,

But Its Contents Are Not Disclosed -The Three Justices to Settle It.

Judge Hammond received a telegram yesterday from Circuit Justice Woods in relation to the United States Marshalship, but its contents were not disclosed. The simple statement is made that the dispatch has been forwarded to Circuit Judge Jackson, at Nashville, and that the three Judges will evidence. will endeavor to come to some agreement. This means a delay of several days and looks as if it were not stall a fixed fact that Dr. Yancey will be the next Marshal. Those who have given any thought to the point raised by the District Attorney think that it with the Judges to say who shall be Marshal, and that they are not bound by anything which has been done, either by the President or by the Senate. That being the case, the field is open and the new Marshal may be Freeman, Yancey, Jones, Smith or Brown-a Democrat or Republican.

THROUGH THE BODY.

AN ESCAPED CONVICT SHOT BY MIKE MADDEN

After a Lively Chase on Poplar Street - The Wounded Man's Crime.

Just about dark yesterday evening people walking along Popler street near Fourth had to move about in the iveliest way to escape being run over by a burly negro, who dashed up the sidewalk toward the river at the top of his speed, hotly pursued by Deputy Sheriff Mike Madden. The officer continually called to him to halt, and several times

LEVELED HIS WEAPON but did not fire on account of the crowd. Once he raised his arm and sent a bullet into the air, but the effect was to hasten rather than to delay the fugitive. He turned into the alley running south from Poplar street, be-tween Third and Fourth streets, thrusting aside a man who strempted to stop him. When Madden reached the mouth of the alley the darky was about twenty steps away and running at the top of his speed. Without stop ping, he TOOK QUICK AIM with his plato', and simultaneously with the report the fugitive fell to the ground. To several persons who ran up to him he said he was badly hurt and begred for a drink of water. Capt. O'Haver appeared upon the scene in a few moments after the shot was fired, and procuring a wagon, and the wounded man conveyed to the Station House, while Madden surrendered to a Deputy Sheriff. Dr. Nall was summoned and pronounced the wound a very dangerous and probably fatal one. The bullet, fired from a thirty-eight calibre Smith & Wesson pistol, entered the right side just be-low the ribs and lodged under the skin about two inches below

THE LEFT SIPPLE, pawing through the lower part of the liver and missing the heart about two inches. Azariah Dickens, as the negro was ca'led, has always borne a very uneavory ropu'ation. About eighteen months ego, at midnight, he broke into a bouse on a farm near the Kansas City incline on the opposite side of the river, compied by Mrs. Maiden and an adopted daughter. They were alone, and in bed seleep together at the time. Awakened by the noise, Mrs. Madden started to get up, when the brute struck her a fearful blow over the head, carefully following up his attack upon the old lady and girl with such v'o'ence that they nar-rowly escaped with their lives, and were still unconscious when discover-ed by their neighbors at a late hour the next morning. Dickens ROBBED THE HOUSE at his leisure of everything he could conveniently carry away, and tetting fire to it left it to burn. The fire died out, however, without doing much damage. About two months afterward Dickens was captured near the Poplar Street Market by Deputy Sheriff Jim Madden, a son of his victim, aided by Patro'man Butler. He was taken to Marion, Crittenden county, Ark., for trial, four indictments having been found by the grand jury. He was tried for assault with intent to commit murder and

SENTENCED TO SEVEN YEARS in the penitentiary. In December last be succeeded in effecting his escape, and hay been heard of several times lately in this vicinity, but the officers were unable to locate bim until last night. As he was heing taken away to the hospital last night he called Jim Madden to him and told him where he could find Taylor the darky who led the jail delivery last
